

First Semester

1. Contemporary criminality, its confrontation and Criminology (Professor Emeritus Iacovos Farsedakis)

The Course includes the following modules: Trends of contemporary criminality and its confrontation in Greece, in Europe and internationally, the globalization of Crime and the Justice response. Particular attention is paid to the issues of organized crime, economic crime, trafficking of human beings, drug offenses, new technologies and crime, special forms of homicide, school violence, domestic violence, collective delinquency, crime in modern cities, environmental offenses. The Course is completed by the special criminal policies addressed to these forms of crime and by the presentation of the main Epistemological and Methodological Issues.